Made large donations to the Museum of the Northwestern University, known as the Ballou Collection, 1923; conducted a geological and natural history survey in Central Kansas, bringing out many pre-forms of first fishes, etc. Always: a Grant-Stewart Republican. Evolutionist and advocate of the doctrine of Multiple Origin of Man and associated animals, which means that each race was evolved separately on different parts of the earth, have no pigmentation in common and are without relationships with each other, as put forth originally by Louis Agassiz. Also holds with Lord Kelvin, that life was brought to earth by other bodies in space coming in contact with it, and that tails of comets are still landing minute forms here, by which mankind is afflicted with new types of disease, including influenza, infantile paralysis, etc. While in the Corps of Engineers, Civil section, of the Army, was made govern. archaeol. by Spencer F. Baird, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, making collections of culture of the Mound Builders. Has been assistant to Acting President Oliver Marcy, in charge of Northwestern Univ. Museum at Evanston. CLUBS: Northwest'n Univ. Clb. of N. Y.: HOME: Closter, N. J.
